VIDEO: The Evolution of Civil Aviation in the Republic of Moldova

Civil aviation in the Republic of Moldova has undergone a century of remarkable transformations.

We invite you to discover the milestones that have shaped the development of civil aviation — from the first commercial flight that connected people, cities and destinies, to the modern technologies that define air transport today!

> This film is a journey through time — a story about the courage of passionate people, the professionalism of the generations who built this industry, and the enduring capacity to innovate and look towards the future.

A Centenary of evolution, progress and connectivity!

- A history built by people.
- A present defined by performance.
- A future oriented towards innovation.